THE PEOPLE

NORFOLK ISLANDERS have a colourful history. They are the descendants of the Bounty mutineers who originally settled on Pitcairn Island. But by 1856 Pitcairn was overcrowded and the entire colony — 194 souls — were transferred to Norfolk Island. Some left but the remainder settled happily in the little island paradise and today many of the families bear the names associated with the mutiny . . . Christian being probably one of the most famous.

The real Norfolk Islanders (as distinct from the later settlers who generally go under the name of "mainlanders") speak among themselves a delightful dialect of 18th century west country English mixed with Tahitian. They are a good looking people, physically stocky in build, predominantly European in characteristics. All can speak everyday English.

THEIR ISLAND

THE NORFOLK ISLANDER'S little paradise has one of the most violent and bloody histories imaginable. It was discovered in 1774 and apparently uninhabited. Settlement came in 1788 and a party of 23 — which included 15 convicts — from Australia. The original settlement was evacuated some years later and it was not until 1825 that the island was re-settled — this time as a punishment station for convicts from New South Wales. The land was cleared, stone buildings, many of which stand today, were built. During this period until the convicts were taken away and the island given to the Pitcairn Islanders, Norfolk Island was one of the most horrible penal institutions in the world. Short of death, said the administrators, there was no worse form of punishment. Many of the convicts would have said that death was preferable.

Today the island is administered as an Australian territory.

PEAK HOLIDAY SEASONS

PEAK HOLIDAY seasons on Norfolk Island when accommodation is difficult are through from the middle of December to the end of January; the school holiday seasons in Australia and New Zealand, which, apart from the December-January summer holidays, fall in May and August.

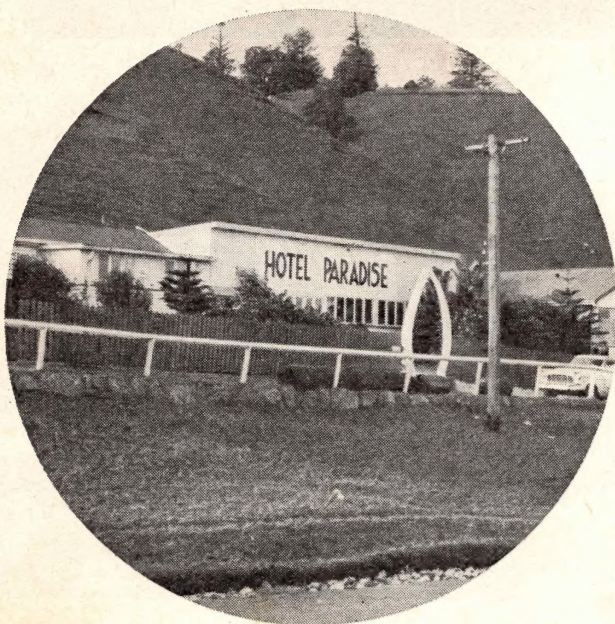

PUBLIC HOLIDAYS

CHRISTMAS DAY, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Bounty Day (June), Foundation Day (March), Anzac Day (April).

FESTIVALS

BIGGEST FESTIVAL on the island is Bounty Week, Bounty Day falling on June 8. For a week or so islanders celebrate the landing of the Pitcairn Islanders on Norfolk. Festivities include a pageant, dances and entertainment.

During the first week in January the island stages the annual Festival of the Pines, a week long round of festivities for the Christmas visitors.

come to paradise

(it's easier than you think)

The Paradise has comfortable single, twin and double rooms, some with private shower and toilet. Its spacious South Seas room is a popular centre for convivial conversation, dancing, film shows and other entertainments.

The hotel is in the historic heart of Norfolk Island, facing the beach, which is but a short walk across the golf course.

Your holiday includes free tours in the hotel bus and trips to Norfolk's famous shops with their array of imported treasures at surprisingly low prices.

Needless to say, appetites whetted by the sea air are well catered for — three good meals a day with morning and afternoon tea as well. Packed lunches are available for those who prefer to spend the day exploring the Island's 16 square miles with its varied land and seascapes.

Daily Rates per Person $6.50
Facility Rooms $8.00

There is everything a tourist or holiday-maker desires . . . golf, bowls, tennis, riding, swimming, fishing. Cars and scooters for hire.

PETROL PRICES

COMPARED with Australia and New Zealand price of petrol is high: 60 cents per gallon.

ROAD CONDITIONS

EXCEPT for about 10 miles of bitumen the road network in Norfolk Island is principally of crushed coral rock and dirt. Surface is usually quite good however and driving is not difficult.

LOCAL PUBLIC TRANSPORT

NORFOLK ISLAND does not have a public bus service as such but there are shoppers' buses which operate daily from the larger hotels into the shopping centre.

TAXIS

There is an adequate fleet of taxis available 24 hours a day seven days a week.

Here we have something distinctly different tourist accommodation designed to combine all the comfort of a first-class modern hotel with unspoiled natural surroundings and an air of casual informality.

The twin-bedrooms and four-bed family units are in a series of "A" frame buildings. Each room is smartly furnished, all have private shower and toilet and each shares the magnificent view.

The units are connected by covered way to a central dining room which is a special feature of Mokutu's service — to this end we maintain our own "home" garden around the units.

Your hosts, Helen and Alan Payne have made good food their hobby — they trust it may be your pleasure. The establishment is licensed. We do not operate a bar but selected table wines are available as are other liquors.

Imagine now, relaxing in this carefree atmosphere, just imbibing the peace and beauty of it all, but enjoying the comforts of a home away from home. This is Mokutu and so easy to have!

The adult rate at Mokutu is $A8.40 per person per day including all meals. Rates for children are:

Under one year — no charge.

one-five years — 50% tariff.

six-twelve years — 75% tariff.

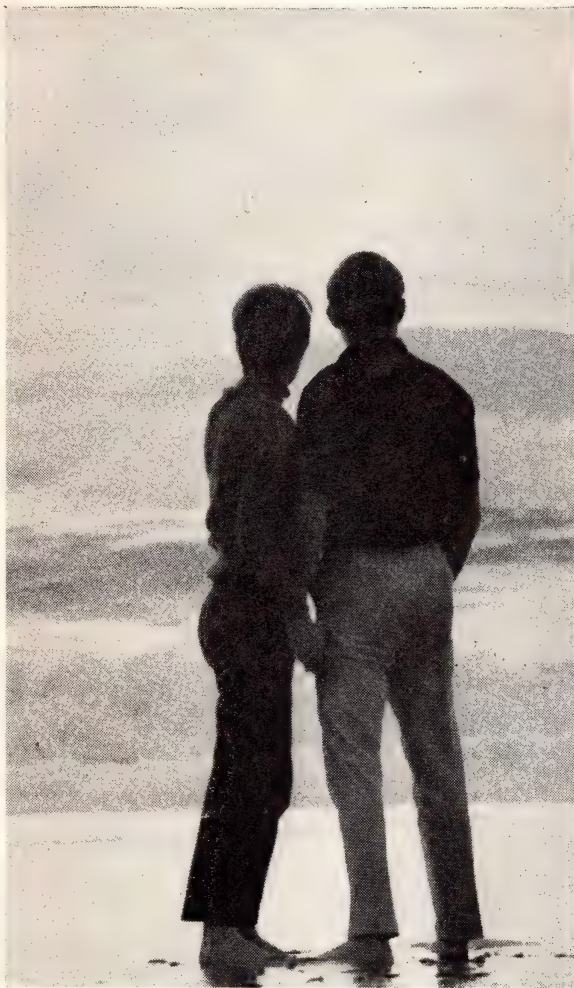

twelve years and over — full tariff.

WHO WANTS A HIRE CAR ?

With over 90 miles of road to cover and so many places to go, a Hire Car is an essential part of your holiday on Norfolk. To most people, it is as important as their accommodation.

Red Rentals Limited, hirers of FIAT motor cars, were the first to introduce new vehicles into hire service, and even today they replace all models each year. With a resident mechanic on call, all vehicles are kept in top condition and are delivered spotlessly clean to each new client.

Two models are available as hire cars . . . the baby Fiat 500, and the dashing new 850. The 500 is a great little car for getting anywhere; it has a sunsh.ne roof which can be opened for fresh air and sun . . . closed when it's wet or dusty. Very economical to run; an ideal car for two people.

The 850 is a larger, more powerful car and seats four persons with comfort. Has four-speed floor gears; a lovely car to drive.

Hire Rates are — $24 per week for a 500; $30 per week for an 850. Insurance extra; no mileage charge. Minimum hire 3 days, at one-half the weekly rate.

Direct bookings may be made to Fiat Hire Cars, Box 147, Norfolk Island.

Here you will be thrilled to see famous brand names such as "Barkers" hand-finished English shoes; "Iva Zanotti" fashion shoes for ladies, from Italy; "Braemar" lambswool and cashmere garments from Scotland; "Bairnsweat" budget-priced knitwear from England; plus others.

The policy of The Quality Shop is to buy in the better quality goods you rarely see on the mainland today, and then to sell them to you at a price with no duty or sales tax attached. In others words it brings a range of high-priced merchandise down to everyday prices . . . a case of better quality costing you less!

TOUR OPERATORS

THE TWO principal tour operators on Norfolk Island are:

Kenny's Scenic Tours Ltd and Marie's Norfolk Tours Ltd.

Throughout the year Kenny's Tours operate half-day trips, glass-bottomed boat trips, fishing trips and barbecues. Marie's Norfolk Tours operate full-day tours, half-day tours, garden trips, island dinners and barbecues.

(See page 21 for sample tours.)

FISHING TRIPS

DEEP SEA fishing can be particularly rewarding around Norfolk Island. Boats are available from Kenny's Tours and Alan Harnish.

Fishing trip prices range from $2.50 to $5.00 depending on time taken and the two boats are also available for charter trips to outlying islands. Skin diving equipment and fishing gear are available for hire.

DINE & DANCE

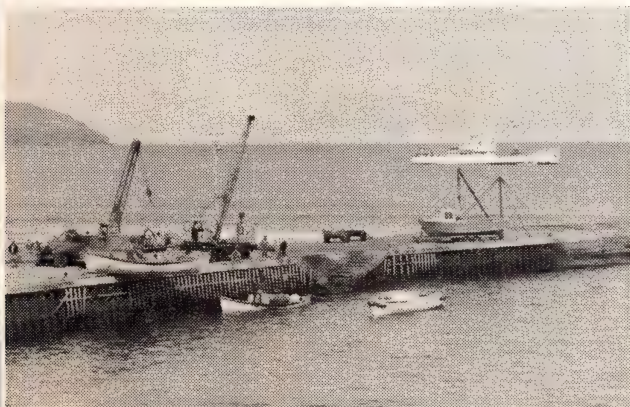

Dinner, dance and cabaret entertainment on Norfolk: Fridays at the Paradise Hotel; Saturdays at the Kingfisher Hotel. Note: The Garrison Club restaurant is a public one and not just a club. It is the only real restaurant apart from the hotels on the island.

LOCAL ENTERTAINMENT

APART FROM pictures three times a week in the local hall Norfolk Island does not have a great deal to offer in the way of night-time entertainment. The licensed hotels however, particularly during peak holiday seasons, run cabarets and dances fairly regularly. Visitors are also welcome at various sporting clubs and golf and bowls are played the year round and tennis in the summer. Horse-riding used to be one of the popular attractions on the island. The demand has been such, however, that there have not been nearly enough horses to satisfy the demand.

ISLAND ENTERTAINMENT

THE MOST original piece of island entertainment in Norfolk is staged every Thursday when two of the islands personalities, Miss Val Nobbs and Mrs Kit Donkin, hold a Norfolk Island feast in one of the old homes. Guests sit at a long table and have a wide choice of island fare. Bookings can be made through the two tour operators listed or through hotels and the Tourist Bureau.

GENERAL

RESTAURANTS

THERE ARE several small restaurants and coffee shops on the island providing coffee, light lunches and dinners. Casual meals are also available at the hotels.

FOOD PRICES

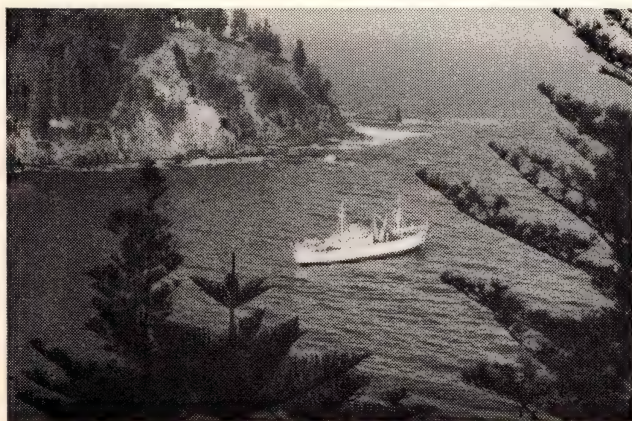

BREAD 20 cents, butter 45 cents a lb, rump steak 55 cents a lb, fillet steak 65 cents a lb. Other food prices similar to Australia and New Zealand.

SUGGESTED DRESS

CASUAL CLOTHES, mainly cotton frocks, cardigans, shorts, pullovers, will do for most of the year with something warmer for June, July and August.

TIPPING

TIPPING IS not generally practised in Norfolk Island and is actively discouraged.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY

ELECTRICAL supply on the island is 240 volts AC comparable to both Australia and New Zealand. Equipment made for North America must work through a transformer.

LIQUOR PRICES

SPIRITS are cheap on Norfolk Island. Whisky bought from the Government store is about $2.80 a bottle, but beer, which has to be shipped in from Australia is expensive, $4.00 a dozen. Bar prices are very reasonable.

DUTY FREE SHOPPING

APART FROM its scenic attractions, duty free shopping is one of the main lures for Australian and New Zealand visitors. There are over 30 shops selling duty-free goods, which include radios, record players, tape recorders, golf equipment, watches, appliances, cameras, binoculars, photographic equipment, clothing, jewellery and perfumes.

PRICES

Prices for most duty free goods are between 30 and 70 per cent cheaper than in Australia and New Zealand.

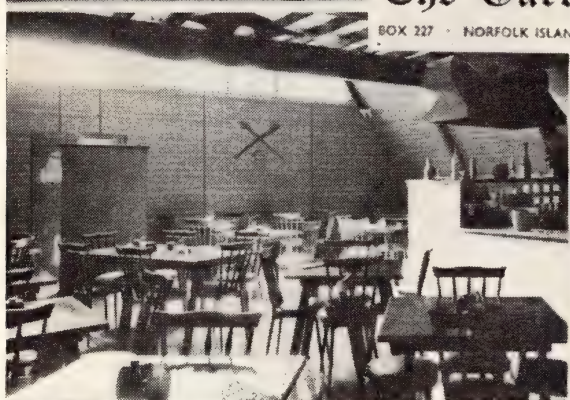

Particularly good buys are cameras, radios, stereograms, tape recorders and sporting equipment.

Note: Both Australian and New Zealand customs authorities usually insist that even the allowable duty free goods be "used". Open whatever you buy to comply with these restrictions. Also make sure you check with the shop on the exact nature of the goods which you are taking back to ensure that they will be duty free on your return.

PLACES

BALL BAY: At the end of Martin's Road there is a superb view of Ball Bay and a continuation of part of the road goes down to the bay itself.

CAPTAIN COOK MONUMENT: Northern end of the island, about a mile and a half walk along a bridle track. A most delightful walk through some of Norfolk's loveliest scenery. The monument to Cook is set on a headland looking out across the sea.

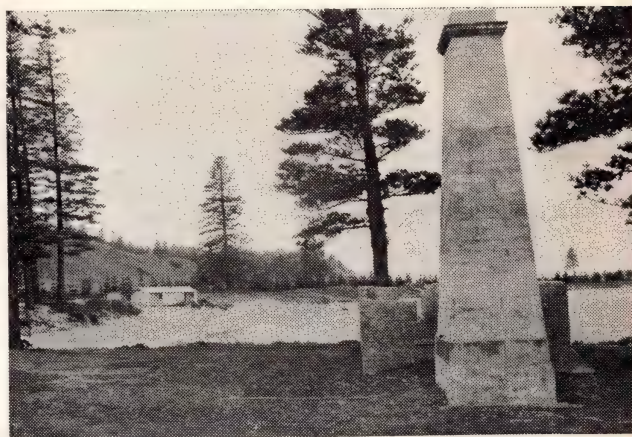

PINE AVENUE: An area at the junction of Farm and Rocky Point roads was the site of a small convict settlement. Little remains but the STONE ARCHES and a store, established in 1866 and still in operation.

THE CASCADE: Off Red Road in Cascade Bay. It was once, apparently, a spectacular sight and although the volume of water which now falls over a series of small waterfalls until it plunges over the cliff is diminished, it is still a notable landmark.

CRYSTAL SWIMMING POOL: Just off Point Ross Road. The pool is a popular swimming spot with visitors and locals. It is below a 200 foot high cliff. Access to the pool is along a path but it is quite steep. It is difficult to reach at high tide and you should go only at low water. An unusual feature of the area are the numerous mutton bird holes which honeycomb the cliff face.

FRED'ICK'S EDGE: A lookout point at the end of Young's Road overlooking Cascade Bay, the old whaling station and blowholes to the north. There is a walking track which follows the cliff to the Little Cascade and Stockyard Creek.

KINGSTON: Once the main centre of the island where the majority of the prison and administrative buildings stood is now largely a curiosity. Principal commercial area is at Burnt Pine. But even today there are still remains of the old buildings. Quality Row, Government House and the Convict ruins all bear the unmistakable stamp of the early days.

The Cemetery towards Bloody Bridge has many headstones with unusual inscriptions. With visitors, the Cemetery has acquired an unusual fascination and it is quite common for people to visit it at midnight.

THE HEADSTONES: On Headstone Point, off Headstone Road. The headstone is generally reputed, though there is no documented foundation for the fact, to be part of the Barny Duffy legend.

MELANESIAN MISSION: In the area between Mission and Anson Bay roads and Douglas Drive area. This area was the site of the thriving Melanesian mission settlement. All that remains now is a rather attractive vicarage and St. Barnabas Chapel.

ST BARNABAS CHAPEL: Built by the mission in 1880 the chapel is an extremely fine and attractive piece of architecture. The interior work is finished in very fine detail and well worth an extended visit.

MISSION CEMETERY: One of the two on the island, the mission cemetery is no longer in use. Many of the headstones make interesting reading, though not as spectacular in legend as those of the main cemetery.

NORFOLK ISLAND'S MUSEUM isn't large but what it lacks in size it makes up in interest. It is being extensively renovated and it has a fascinating collection of relics from the early days of the penal settlement. It is open to visitors everyday.

MT PITT and MT BATES: The two highest sections of the island. There are roads to the top of both mountains and they can be easily climbed for a wonderful view of the island. Both are the crater rim remains of extinct volcanos and both are just over 1000 feet high.

BOOKING OFFICE FOR "SONAR MIA" CHARTER CRUISER FISHING TRIPS

GENERAL

SWIMMING

EMILY BAY is the safest and most popular swimming haunt on Norfolk. It's a deep little cove and absolutely safe. Other popular places include the CRYSTAL POOL on the south western edge of the island and round at Anson Bay where you should swim only in the centre of the bay. Just round the headland from the Crystal pool on the eastern side of POINT ROSS there is some very good surfing water.

RIDING

Horse riding, so traditional on Norfolk Island, but in the past rather difficult to find, is now well established again with a good commercial stable. Prices are moderate ($A1.50 per hour) and even for the inexperienced (lessons available if necessary) it is one of the best ways of seeing the island. With little traffic, quiet roads and delightful scenery there are few more relaxing occupations.

WALKING

One of the most pleasant ways of seeing Norfolk Island is on foot. The roads are quiet and the scenery very attractive; there are numerous walking tracks (see map), particularly at the northern end of the island.

FISHING

Apart from the excellent fishing available on boats, surf and rock fishing are very good on Norfolk. Almost any point on the island is worth trying but extreme care should be exercised on rocks. Seas can come up very quickly. Local conditions change quite frequently and you should make local enquiries before picking a location. Fish generally caught include trumpeter, trevalli, groper, garfish and kingfish.

GOLF

The golf links just behind Emily Bay are open to visitors and clubs and equipment can be hired from Burnt Pine.

Visitors are welcome at the Bowling Club which holds a popular early Winter Tournament each year, which attracts visitors from New Zealand and Australia.

LOCAL LEGENDS

With a history as violent and macabre as Norfolk's it's hardly surprising that there are several local legends.

Probably the most tragic, though it involved comparatively little loss of life, is the story of Barney Duffy.

One of the convicts on the island penal settlement, he escaped from prison, which even in those callous days was generally regarded as "a punishment short only of death".

To leave the island was virtually impossible but Barney Duffy found shelter in the trunk of a huge Norfolk pine where for seven years he lived, coming out only at night, eating what little he could find.

But he was accidentally discovered one day by two young soldiers who were on their way to fish. In spite of his pleas they took him back to the settlement where he was tried and hung but not before, according to legend, he cursed his captors.

One account gives this description: "So surely as ye do this, before me corpse has hung a week on King's Town's Gallows, ye'll meet a violent death, the pair of ye."

Two days after he was hung the soldiers were drowned, their battered bodies found floating in the sea. So legend puts it, anyway. There certainly was a hollow-trunked pine tree which was burned down a couple of years ago and legend again ties up with fact with the Headstones on Headstone Point which, they say, were erected in memory of the two soldiers.

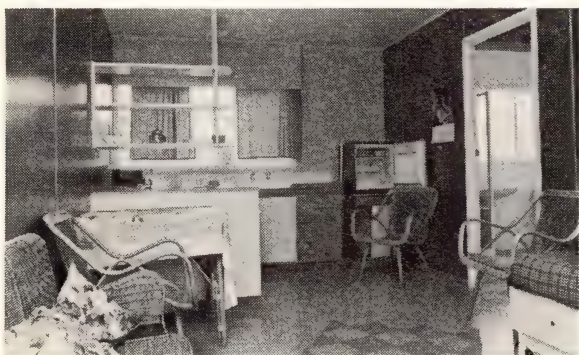

The other legend which has as much to substantiate it concerns the story of the Bloody Bridge.

A group of convicts working on the construction of a bridge on Cemetery Road were reputed to have killed a brutal warder. One legend puts it that they hid his body within the stonework of the bridge. They were found, says the story, when they were made to pull part of it down the next day because it was not square. Another version says that the murder was discovered when troops found blood seeping from between the new stonework. Whatever did happen, however, local legend says that the convicts (13 in number in one legend, and 25 in another) were hung and buried in a communal grave on the seaward face of the Kingstown cemetery. There is a headstone there now but it seems to be of fairly recent origin, although its inscription is weathered and illegible.

Curiously enough, there is no documented evidence of the incident, which would have taken place in one of the few relatively enlightened periods of the island's penal settlement.
